Tech Lead and full-stack developer with over a decade of experience building and evolving complex web systems. Specialized in .NET / C# backend development and modern frontend applications (Angular / Vue), with a strong focus on system architecture, scalability, and maintainable codebases. Combines hands-on development with technical leadership — guiding architecture decisions, mentoring developers, and helping teams deliver reliable production systems. Background spans enterprise platforms, geospatial systems, and cloud-native applications running on AWS and Kubernetes.
